WVPA Program

Welcome

Ceva is very pleased to invite you to the XVIIIth Congress of the World's Poultry Congress.

Considering the most important European event focused on the dissemination of poultry science and technology, the XVIIIth World Veterinary Poultry Association Congress (WVPA 2013) will gather around 1,000 visitors, with over 400 participants coming outside from the European continent.

The main objectives of the event are to promote knowledge and development of technologies employed in all aspects of poultry science and to help facilitate liaison among researchers and professionals working in different sectors of the poultry industry. The WVPA 2013 event will be again an excellent opportunity to build and develop profitable exchanges and relationship between poultry specialists.

See you at our booth during the Congress and the Ceva Symposium on August 21st evening!

About Nantes

Nantes: the booming capital of Western France

- At the heart of the first Poultry production area in Europe!
- Near one of the National Veterinary Schools.
- Close to research centers (Tours, Ploufragan).
- 1 hour driving distance from the Loire Valley.
- 2 hours driving distance from Paris.
- The Nantes area enjoys a warm and sunny climate in the summer.
- Nantes is a quiet and safe town, and offers a «city pass» (free urban transport) to the participants of the Congress.
- Speakers, participants and partners are mostly available on account of the timing of the congress, which does not conflict with their professional obligations, especially in the case of academics.

Getting to Nantes

- Over 60 international destinations.
- An easily accessible destination from Europe.
- 15 minutes drive from the airport to the City Center.

Congress Center, Nantes Events Center «La Cité»
